I am a Frontend Web Developer located near Columbus, Ohio. I have a proper educational foundation from HTML up, and compliment those skills with great communication, teamwork, attitude, and effort. Using Semantic HTML, responsive CSS, efficient Javascript, interactive JQuery, and Photoshop fundamentals, I would love to be a positive addition to your frontend team, or help you make your business's audience grabbing, clean website, and all while really caring for your web project, and anyone else working on it after me.
